MANY GRADUATES HAVE SCHOOLS FOR NEXT YEAR

Contracts Signed For Many Teaching Positions In State

Students of the Normal school may be interested in knowing that many members of this year's graduating class have already been successful in securing teaching positions for next year. The following list includes those who have accepted contracts, with the name of the community in which they will be teaching:

Esther Hayden, Ilwaco; Frances Gibson, Raymond; Stanley Beck, Raymond; Frances Burns, Zillah; Beulah Love, Peshastin; Marietta Barrick, Zillah; Emma Stroud, Peshastin; Ida Johnson; Tumwater; Helen Hayes, Wapato; Claire Cartledge, Cashmere; Ruby Gustafson, Ellensburg rural; Mary Giolitti, Moxee City; Adelaide Watland, Port Townsend; Ethelyn Lamb, Hay; Mr. and Mrs. Sherman McClung, Alaska; Ollie Coleman, Nesika; Silvan Strandwold, Hoquiam; Ira Overstreet, Selah; Joseph Trainor, Selah; Elizabeth Crosby, Goldendale; Blanche Morgan, Prescott rural; Katherine Inmon, Tenino; Wilma Brennen, Upper Nanum; Grace Wheeler, Coviche; Vera Barnett, Sunnyside; Blanche Chambers, White Bluffs, and Olga Strom, White Bluffs.

Spot Lights Will Play on Dancers at Drama Thursday

The night of Thursday, May 31 will find the lawn in front of Kamola hall brilliantly lighted. Spotlights of every hue will throw their beams on the beautiful group of dancers.

Costumes are being finished, the dances are being perfected and the orchestra has been organized.

A look into the gym this afternoon will show what they are doing.

Helen Olson sits on the floor. What is she looking at?

You edge closer, and someone says "Get out of the scene" but you persist. You discover that she is looking at a well. It must be a wishing well to be in the dance drama.

Then Betty Crosby as Quin crosses the stage in a leisurely fashion.

Quin spies the pretty black haired Tynith. He is drawn by curiosity to see what she is looking at. He looks over her shoulder, and she becomes frightened as she views his handsome face; for is it not true that the man you view in a wishing well will be your sweetheart?

Tynith loves Quin at first sight. Then, just as most all men either outside or inside a story book Quin must "show off" before the lady he loves. He dances as he never danced before.

He ceases dancing and thinks that Tynith will come to him. She is coy, however, and keeps herself remote. Quin then chases Tynith. That fails, so he tries being haughty himself.

But there—that is all that you can see, until the day of the dance drama.

NOTICE

In making their plans for Thursday, May 24, students should remember that on account of the Chamber of Commerce All-school Picnic, no meals, except breakfast, will be served in the school dining room.

Select House Officers For Fall Semester

A nominating committee consisting of the house officers selected the following persons as candidates for Kamola hall officers for the school year beginning next September.

For president: Lucile McDonald, Nell Stewart and Helen Bennett. For secretary: Opal Estes, Louise Thomson and Wanda Johnson. For treasurer: Norma Bridenstein, Laura Hall and Marie McCoy. For social commissioner: Ethylene Gifford, Florence Nelson and Imogene Enley. The candidate receiving the second highest vote for president will automatically be elected vice president. Election, to be by secret ballot, will take place at the next house meeting, to be held sometime this week.

MILLER URGES HYAKEM ORDERS

"Have you purchased your Hyakem yet? If not, do so immediately if you wish to get a copy," says Kenneth Miller. Only a limited number are to be published and there are only a few days left to place orders. Do not take the risk of waiting until the last minute. Every student in this institution should purchase a Hyakem. What student won't enjoy delving in the pages of the Hyakem and living over again all the good times at W. S. N. S.?"

The Hyakem staff is making every effort to make this year's annual one of which you will be proud; one in which cherished memories will be recorded forever in pages replete with attractiveness and a rare beauty of design. Now is the time to avoid regret. Place your order with the following people: Rudolph Seppi, Molly Fitzell, Orlo Higley, Mary Redosavich, Bill Nicholson. Come on you Wildcats, let's make it one hundred per cent. Do it now!

HANKS POSTPONES SPECIAL MEETING

The special assembly scheduled for May 29, at which John Hanks was to address the student body, has been cancelled, due to Mr. Hanks' inability to appear here on that date. Mr. Hanks at first accepted the invitation to speak here, but was later forced to withdraw the acceptance, due to conflicts in his speaking schedule. An effort is being made to secure Stoddard King, well known author and journalist, for a speaking date on the evening of June 1 in the auditorium. Mr. King will be in Ellensburg on that day, as he is delivering the commencement address at the graduation exercises in Ellensburg high school in the afternoon, but as yet no reply has been received regarding the invitation to speak at the Normal school in the evening.

President Black to Bellingham

President Black has accepted an invitation to attend the dedication of the new library at Bellingham Normal school on June 5, it was announced this week. The dedication will mark another step in the progress of the Normal schools of the state, and is expected to be attended by the heads of the larger educational institutions of Washington. President Black plans to return to Ellensburg in time for Senior Class Day on June 6.

SCHOOL PICNIC GALA OCCASION

Students And Business Men Will Enjoy Day's Out- ing In Swauk

An all-school picnic sponsored by the Ellensburg Chamber of Commerce will make tomorrow a gala day for the majority of the student body. With Sulphur Springs in the Blewett pass region the objective, the party will leave Kamola hall at 8:00 in the morning and will not return until evening. Transportation for all students will be provided by the business men.

Twice during the school year the chamber entertains the faculty members and the student body by giving a picnic up in the mountains. Of all the events of the year this spring excursion has the reputation of being the most popular. On previous occasions the student attendance has been almost 100 per cent, and it is expected that 600 students will attend tomorrow. Owing to the favorable weather a variety of entertainment is open to all who come. Sports, including baseball, volleyball and mountain climbing, as well as dancing in the afternoon, are a few of the events planned for the day. Activity is the keynote of the picnic, so students are advised to don sport clothes.

COMMENCEMENT TO BRING SPEAKERS

"Wayfarer" Author Will Be Baccalaureate Speaker Here

Of interest in connection with news of Commencement week is the announcement that the baccalaureate sermon on June 3 will be delivered by the Rev. Mr. James E. Crowther of Seattle, who will be remembered as the author of "The Wayfarer" a religious pageant that attracted nation-wide attention and has been staged numerous times in different parts of the United States. It was present annually for several years in the university stadium at Seattle, with a staging involving the use of magnificent scenes and a cast of more than 4000 people. The baccalaureate service at which Mr. Crowther will speak will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church of Ellensburg on the first Sunday in June. Attendance at baccalaureate will be limited strictly to seniors, their immediate relatives, and members of the faculty.

Further information from Mr. Porter's office reveals that the Commencement exercises will be held in the Ellensburg theatre on June 7 at 10 a.m. In order to prevent disturbance of the exercises the doors will be closed promptly at that hour, and no one further admitted. The speaker of the occasion will Dr. Charles E. Martin of the University of Washington, and members of the student body and the general public will be allowed to attend.

WOMEN'S TENNIS TO THIRD ROUND

Activity in women's sports is at present centered around the tennis tournament, which when completed will determine beyond doubt just who is the best feminine tennis player in W. S. N. S. The entry list was composed of 32 frosh women and 32 sophomore women, and play is being conducted between the women of each class. The close of the second round found that there were still 13 frosh and 14 sophomores still in competition, so a third round is necessary to determine the champion in each class. At the close of the third round the two class champions will meet in a match to determine the winner of the entire tournament.

Dramatics For Next Year To Be Discussed

People who will be back in school next year and are interested in dramatics are requested to come to a meeting in the auditorium next Monday evening at 7:30, at which the dramatic program for next year will be discussed.

CONCERT WILL BE CLASS DAY EVENT

Seniors and Immediate Rela- tives Will Have Chance To Hear Singer

A special concert, featuring Franklin Riker, widely known tenor, will be held in honor of the graduating seniors in the auditorium on the evening of Senior Class day, June 6. Owing to the size of the graduating class it has been found necessary to limit the attendance strictly to seniors and their immediate relatives who may be present for Commencement week. Invitation will be issued to all seniors, and upon receiving their invitations the seniors may call at Mr. Porter's office and receive their tickets to the concert. Hours at which the office will be open for the distribution of tickets will be announced later.

Franklin Riker is a tenor whose voice is known the nation over, and he has received the highest praise from the most severe of our music critics. This recital will mark his first appearance at Ellensburg Normal school, and it will undoubtedly be the greatest artistic event of the school year. Mr. Riker will be accompanied by John Hopper, a pianist of note. Mr. Hopper is also from the Cornish School of Seattle, where Mr. Riker is dean of the vocal department. It is also expected that in addition to Mr. Riker's vocal selections, Mr. Hopper will present a number of piano solos.

Katinka Cast In Special Program at Selah Friday

Members of the cast of the operetta "Katinka" journeyed to Selah last Friday night, where a special concert featuring vocal selections from the production was presented to a large and enthusiastic audience in the auditorium of the Selah high school. The concert was staged under the direction of Miss Ethel Miller, head of the department of music, who accompanied the students.

"The audience filled the hall to capacity, and accorded us a very appreciative reception," said Miss Miller, in commenting on the concert. "It was in all respects one of the most satisfactory performances we have ever had."

Members of the "Katinka" cast who made the trip were Dolores Hoyt, Lucille Doersch, Ruth Hutchins, Dorothy Moe, Eileen Moe, Stanley Beck, Alvin Warwick, Nick Losacco, and Norman Schille. The players were transported in cars driven by Rudolph Seppi and Harry Weimar.

KATINKA GREETED WITH THREE BIG AUDIENCES HERE

Operetta Is Popular And Appreciated Offering Last Week

A capacity attendance on three successive nights greeted "Katinka," annual operetta presented by the department of music. Every audience was generous with its praise, and the judgment of everyone seemed to indicate that the last musical production of the year was also the most popular.

The operetta itself had a clever but not intricate plot, and while the dramatic values of the production are not to be underrated, undoubtedly the vocal selections won the most acclaim. Audiences are always partial to solos, duets and quartettes in any performance, and some very fine work was done in these. Dolores Hoyt, who carried the title role, has a beautiful voice that pleased the most severe critics. George Peterson's baritone was popular as ever, and Stanley Beck, due perhaps as much to his clever role as to the fine quality of his voice, was undoubtedly the hit of the show. Norman Schille, Kent Caldwell, Alvin Warwick and Nick Losacco were other men who contributed fine acting as well as good vocal work towards the success of the production. The duet "Skidikiscatch" by Beck and Schille was probably the most popular number in the entire performance. Among the feminine leads should not be forgotten Ruth Hutchins and Lucille Doersch, two very fine voices whose numbers drew deserved applause from the spectators.

A feature of the production was the presentation of several beautiful dances, including two sold dances by Helen Marie Olsen and a Russian dance by Dorothy Moe and Eileen Moe. The entire production was most ably directed by Miss Ethel Miller, head of the department of music.

TO OPEN BIDS ON NEW SCHOOL GYM

Bids for the construction of the new gymnasium will be opened at 4:30 on the afternoon of May 28, at a joint meeting of the Board of Trustees and the Ellensburg Normal School Building Corporation. If favorable action is voted upon any of the bids submitted it is expected that actual construction work will begin about June 1, the building to be completed in time for use in the fall quarter.

CAMPUS IMPROVEMENTS

Completion of the new internal telephone system has proved that its installation is both convenient and successful. Thirty-two dial phones are in use at present. Accommodations for 60 are included in the plans.

In the days of Queen Elizabeth each guest at a dinner party brought his own knife and spoon.

Rattle Snakes Are Dead But Not Forgotten After Week End of Neglect in Upper Regions

By TED KILDALL

I was entering the Ad building last Monday morning when I was first aware of it. In fact, I was plodding wearily up the stairs, my hands in my pockets and my head busy with the thoughts one usually has on Monday morning, when my nostrils were assailed with a stench reminiscent of the mud flats of Elliott bay at low tide. I noticed other students evidencing signs of olfactory distress, but inquiry revealed nothing as to the source of the annoyance.

So I went on to Mr. Fish's class, because it annoys him to have students detained, even by an odor. There I tried hard to concentrate on exploration, westward expansion, and other details of Canadian history, but my brain was utterly befuddled by the noxious gases that crept up my nose. It was not until an hour later, when I was on my way to bacteriology class, that the mystery was made clear. As I neared the lab door it opened suddenly, and two students rushed down the hall, bearing in a glass jar all that was mortal of some zoological specimens that were recently very much alive. From the open door way still billowed forth the odors of decomposition. As I turned away I heard a student explain:

"Yuh know them rattle snakes they had in there? Well, they got 't fightin' and killed each other, an' they been layin' in there all week-end, and the place smells like a fertilizer factory."

Truly, he spoke with an apt and descriptive tongue.

This Is What Happened to a Knight of the Bath When He Mislaid the Soap

To a reporter out in quest of news there came this tale of a tragedy with a cake of soap as a factor that humbled a young Romeo of this campus.

When he had entered the sanctity of a shower, the story goes, this gallant cavalier, by a flaw in his motor coordination allowed one pedal extremity to shoot out. Immediately the sun moon and stars tumbled from their orbits and danced before the eyes of the fallen hero.

When all had righted itself again the sufferer lifted his wounded foot, and then allowed it to descend upon a cake of soap. The results may only be imagined. A long slide and a jarring bump.

And now, about the campus hobbles this man, humbled by a piece of soap, and a knot on his cranium.

INTRODUCING
C. D. Gray

Seldom can you find in this "Age of Wheels" anyone who can claim for his family tree, five generations of residences within any one state, but such are the facts in the case of Mr. Clarence D. Gray, youngest "native son" on the faculty staff at W. S. N. S. Descending from a family that first came to Washington in 1854, Mr. Gray was born at Oakesdale, Washington, among the rolling, tumbling hills of eastern Washington thereby acquiring the right to be called a "Palouser."
Graduating from Lewis and Clark high school of Spokane in 1915, Mr. Gray attended the Cheney Normal until he received a two year diploma. He began his teaching in the proverbial one room country school house at Downs, in Lincoln county. Going from there he taught at Bluestem and thence on to Waverly in 1919, following which he spent three years teaching in the territorial schools at Haines, Alaska.
Returning to school he received his A. B. degree at Washington State college majoring in education. Mr. Gray came to Ellensburg as a teacher in the training school where he is now principal of the junior high school and also assistant in the department of psychology at the Normal.
During the war Mr. Gray received training at the University of California, and the army school of fire at Fort Monroe, Virginia. One of his recitation rooms being the one where Jeff Davis was held prisoner during the Civil war. Sad news though it may be to inmates of Susie and Kamola halls it should be mentioned that he is also married and has a family.

A keen lover of the outdoors Mr. Gray admits being a disciple of Isaac Walton, not stating whether he is a user of the lowly angle worm or a "dry fly" faddest.
From outside sources we discovered that boys and their activities occupy most of his leisure time, while for a high hobby he maintains a keen interest in aviation.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By PETE WICK
Hello opera fans!
Did you enjoy Katinka?
So'd we.

Fat Caldwell went over big.
It is reported that the Metropolitan Opera Company has signed him on a 99 year lease.
Enlargement of their stage is now in progress.
Babe Peterson made the girls' hearts flutter as the handsome and romantic hero.
And wasn't Norm Schille cute in them Oxford bags?
They had the school gold-diggers play the part of beggars.
They wanted the parts to be performed naturally.
In fact, they performed their parts so naturally that Buck Musgrove kept his hands in his pockets during the entire show.

They had quite a time inducing Dan Jacky to wear those balloon pants.
He said he didn't have an aviator's license.
He thought the reason they made him wear the balloon trousers was because he had to sing the Turkish national air.
Jacky had a green parrot perched on his shoulder during the entire performance.
The little blonde next to us said she wished they would put a sign on the parrot so she could tell them apart.
Or the sign might have said "This is no sea gull."
Jacky says he had quite a time keeping the parrot in a placid mood.
There were so many wise-crackers in the audience.
Mr. Beck and his Hotpoint orchestra presented a commendable program.
We call them the Hotpoint orchestra because they were always getting hot while connected with some chord.

Nick Losacco did remarkably well as the man who lost his spaghetti.
His sweet soprano voice resounded through the auditorium like a bowl full of mush.
He sure made a gorgeous appearance in the costume he wore.
They ought to make him door-keeper at the steam plant.
Stan Beck caused an avalanche of laughter.
Mr. Sandberg laughed so hard the lady in front of him indignantly informed the world that she was going to report him to the juvenile authorities if he did not stop hitting her in the back of the neck with buttons.
We're not quite sure just what George King was moving so stealthily about the scenery for, as the Russian secret service agent.
Perhaps he was looking for the Phantom of the Opera.
Al Warwick was appropriately cast as the straw-boss of Alla Pasha's harem.

And then there was that costume of his!
Superb! Gorgeous! Extraordinary! Superior Laundry El Paso! Such was the comment of the audience when he appeared on the stage.
They should have said courageous.

And when he sang the "Song of the Molecule" a tear could be seen to stagger and stumble across Wes Ruble's cheek.

Soft and crooning came his voice, like Rudolph Seppi stubbing his toe in the middle of the night. Ah yes, like the sonorous tones of a broken phonograph record and the sublime tenderness of a steam-shovel. Ah me, it was terrific!

Helen Marie Olson did a dance entitled "The Spirit of Akam."

When Swede Jensen saw all the Turkish scenery he had to leave. It made him homesick.

When Orlo Higley saw some of the players garbed in sheets he rushed home to investigate his bunk.

But be it as it may, everyone enjoyed the opera.

And to one who deserves it we make a toast—

To Dolores Hoyt, who left the infirm-ary to give as beautiful a performance as we have ever witnessed in this institution!

And to Miss Miller and Mr. Wright and their associates and to the entire cast we extend our heartiest congratulations.

PRESIDENT GIVES KITTITAS SPEECH

President Black delivered the commencement speech to the graduating class of Kittitas high school last Thursday, May 17, in the high school auditorium. He has also accepted an invitation to be the principal speaker at the commencement exercises to be held in the Outlook high school for the graduating class next Friday, May 25.

The new athletic field is receiving finishing touches under the supervision of F. W. Straw. A drainage system will be installed in the next few weeks after which the field will be seeded down with grass.

PEOPLE YOU SHOULD KNOW

DOLORES HOYT

Everyone knows Katinka. Dolores Hoyt has made a name for herself in her two years at Ellensburg, taking a minor lead in the "Fire Fly", last year's opera, and being a member of the women's double quartette. She is one of Miss Meisner's Kindergarten-Primary majors, and is a member of Kappa Pi and Alpha Zeta Chi.

In high school Dolores took leads in operettas and musical programs. Over here she enjoys the unique distinction of being Port Townsend's only representative among the students.

LUCILLE DOERSCH

Lucille entered Ellensburg Normal school from Centralia Junior College, which she entered after graduating from Centralia high school. In high school she was a member of the glee club and active in musical and dramatic life. Lucille is best known for her work in "Katinka" where her voice never failed to bring applause. She is a member of the women's double quartette and Alpha Zeta Chi.

Her hobby is concerts and the piano.

RUTH HUTCHINS

The much-loved wife of the rich American in "Katinka" was Ruth Hutchins, who hails from Pilot Rock, Oregon. Ruth graduated from Pilot Rock Union high school and was valedictorian of her class. While there she was active in the club and musical life of her school.

Since coming to Ellensburg two years ago Ruth had made herself known through class-room work and musical ability. She is a Junior high school major in home economics, a member of the women's glee club and Alpha Zeta Chi, as well as the women's double quartette.

GEORGE PETERSON

Babe Peterson entered W. S. N. S. last September and soon made a name for himself on the gridiron, being one of Sandy's trusty back-field men. With the close of the football season he turned his efforts into other channels, taking one of the leads in the opera "Katinka" where his baritone voice and dramatic ability was one of the attractions of the production. He is a track man of real ability, upholding the honor of the Wildcats in Trojan fashion at the track meet last Saturday.

At Wenatchee high school Babe had an enviable record as a member of football and state championship track teams. He is a member of the half-mile relay team that holds the state interscholastic record. Babe is a member of the Crimson W club and will be back with us again next year.

NORMAL SERIES GOES TO CHENEY

Deciding Game Late Saturday Afternoon Gives Them Lead

The Bellingham Vikings lost the third and deciding game of their series with Cheney Normal here Saturday afternoon, 13 to 12, when a belated ninth inning rally fell just one short of tying the count. It was a loosely played contest in which both teams showed the strain of previous games. Both the starting pitchers had worked before in the series, Turner having pitched Saturday morning and Liefer Friday afternoon.

The Vikings went into the ninth 7 runs behind, but Liefer, who beat them Friday, was fast tiring, although he had been effective till then. With one down they began to find him regularly, batting clear around and sending 6 runs over the pater before McClurken, up for the second time in the inning, grounded to second for the final out with the tying run on second base. Doubles by Bailey, Thorsen and Odell featured the rally. Odell's drive scored the final two runners and he was perched on second when McClurken was thrown out.

Cheney took full advantage of the many Bellingham bobbles, some of which were very costly. A passed ball by Iverson, Bellingham catcher, in the fifth on what should have been the third out of the inning, gave a Cheney batter life on first and started a rally that broke a 4-4 tie and presented Cheney with a five-run lead which they never relinquished. Iverson failed to hold the third strike and the ball rolled to the stand, allowing the batter to reach first safely.

Except for that unlucky inning Turner had the situation well in hand until the seventh when May's homer over the left field fence with two on the bags drove him to the showers. The big Viking, who had pitched and won the morning game, found the task of hurling two full nine-inning games in one day a bit too much. Thorlaksen, who relieved him, was touched for one more in the eighth.

Liefer, on the mound for Cheney, pitched his second good game of the series. His effectiveness reacted favorably on the whole Cheney aggregation. They snapped out of the slump which had cost them the morning game and played good ball behind him. Volkman in center accorded him wonderful support. He took Odell's long fly off the fence in deep right center in the first inning, crashing into the boards after the catch, and made a beautiful play a few innings later on another long fly, this time near the fence in left center.

Odell stamped himself as the outstanding player of the series by starring for the third time. His fielding around the keystone sack featured the game. Bailey, with a single, two doubles and a triple was the Bellingham batting star. Iverson got four singles. Clift got four safeties, while May and Osborne garnered three each. One of May's bingles was a home run while Osborne's best efforts were a long triple in the first inning and a double.

SWAN SONG FOR W. S. C. RAZZERS

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE, Pullman, May 22—Scandal and razz sheets sang their swan song at the State College recently with the publication of the "Yellow Jacket," campus day humor pulication edited by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism honorary.

A front-page boxed editorial, headed with the captions, "The Final Edition," heralded the passing of the traditional purveyor of campus gore. It read in part, "Razz sheets have never contributed a great deal in the way of literature, art, originality, or even humor. True humor is not a gathering of obscene idiosyncracies written in a manner to give a hideous slant on life. College is not the hell-hole that razz sheets in general paint it.

"In the past, students and faculty, both deserving of consideration and respect, have ben hurt and offended by some foolish bit of gossip that is written in an attempt to make it sensational. Perhaps the personal pride and conscience with which everyone is endowed will receive less blows if future publications fo this type are barred."

LOCAL TEAM IS VICTOR IN TRI-NORMAL EVENTS

Crimson Men Take An Unexpected Lead In Big Meet

TEAMS WERE EVEN

Fast, Close Scoring Keeps Crowd Agog In All Events

Displaying a beautifully balanced strength that counted points in every event on the program, the Ellensburg Normal school swept to an unexpected victory in the annual Tri-Normal track and field meet on Rodeo field here Saturday afternoon with a total of 51 points. Cheney, with 43, nosed out Bellingham for second place by a bare two points by taking first in the last event of the day, the relay. It was Ellensburg's first triumph since the meet was inaugurated in 1923 and is her third major championship of the 1927-28 athletic season.

The meet was one of the fastest and closest in the history of tri-normal competition, only 10 points separating Ellensburg in first place and Bellingham in third. Perfect weather conditions and the bitter struggle for honors combined to produce six record breaking performances, four on the track and two in the field, but only the field marks will be given official recognition. The unfortunate breaking of two watches just previous to the first event necessitated timing the track events on one slide watch and they cannot, therefore, be entered in the records as new marks.

The marks thus lost are: 4:40 2-5 in the mile by Bright of Bellingham; 10 seconds flat in the century by Seigert of Cheney; 2:02 3-5 in the 880 by Jewell of Bellingham; 3:34 in the mile relay by the Cheney team. The latter was timed on an ordinary pocket watch, after the only remaining stop watch had been broken.

Three stars, one from each of the schools, waged a spirited battle for individual high point honors. Jewell of Bellingham won out by taking first in the shot and 880-yard run, second in the 440-yard run and running on the second place relay team. His total was 13 3-4 points. Seigert of Cheney won both the dashes and ran on the winning relay team for 11 1-4 points. Peterson, Ellensburg's star, finished in third place with 11 points. He placed in five different events, but failed to win a first place. Schimke of Cheney beat him out in the broad jump by an inch and a fraction on the last jump.

Grant of Ellensburg and Jewell of Bellingham staged a great duel in the 440-yard dash. Grant took the lead at the start and rounded into the straightaway yards ahead of the Viking workhorse, but Jewell drew up as they neared the tape. They crossed the line so close together that it was hard to pick the winner. The judges gave Grant first in 52 1-5 seconds. Purnell, also of Ellensburg, set a new meet record in the discus with a toss of 116 feet 10 inches, and forced Erickson of Bellingham to set a new mark of 177 feet 10 inches to win the javelin. Those two are the only new marks that will go on the records.

CHENEY WINS AT TENNIS MATCHES

The Wildcats were tamed in their native environment Saturday morning on the tennis courts and last year's champion Vikings were sent home in defeat when Cheney captured the tri-Normal tennis tournament in easy fashion. Thal of Bellingham scored the lone victory for his team, winning one match in the men's singles. West of Cheney, who was easily the class of the show, won the men's singles and along with his teammate took the doubles in straight sets.

In the first round of the meet, Fisher of Bellingham took two fast sets from Webster of Ellensburg, but quickly lost his laurels when he met West, Cheney's star. In the other singles match Hungate of Cheney eliminated Overstreet of Ellensburg in the only match of the day that went to three sets. Hungate, however, lost the second ranking championship to Thal of Bellingham in a torrid match. In the doubles Cheney's team of West and Hungate had an easy time, defeating Thal and Bond of Bellingham 6-2, 6-3, and then conquering Webster and Overstreet, 6-2, 6-1.

Match scores for the singles matches were:

First ranking players: Fisher defeated Webster 6-2, 6-2; West defeated Fisher, 6-3, 6-0.

Second ranking players: Hungate defeated Overstreet 6-2, 1-6, 6-3; Thal defeated Hungate, 7-5, 6-3.

Hughes of Cheney displayed nice form in the pole vault, winning at 11 feet 5 3-4 inches. He attempted a new record, and cleared the bar at the new height, but a subsequent measurement showed it to be a little short. Nixon of Ellensburg won the high jump for the second consecutive time. He also took one jump at a new record, but failed and was forced to stop in order to enter the high hurdles, in which he placed second.

Ellensburg won with only 4 firsts in the fifteen events. Cheney copped six and Bellingham 5. It was consistent scoring, seconds and thirds in every event, that won for the locals. Bellingham came with high confidence and was generally favored to win, but Cheney took just enough of her "Cinch" points to give Ellensburg the victory.

The summary:

Mile run: Bright, Bellingham, first; Higley, Ellensburg, second; Brinkman, Bellingham third. Time, 4:40 2-5. New meet record, but not accepted.

440-yard dash: Grant Ellensburg, first; Jewell, Bellingham, second; Oberst, Cheney third. Time :52 1-5.

100-yard dash: Seigert, Cheney, first; Peterson, Ellensburg, second; Hemmi, Bellingham third. Time :10 flat. New meet record, not accepted.

Pole Vault: Hughes, Cheney first; Rude, Cheney, second; Roth, Ellensburg third. Height 11 feet, 5 3-4 inches.

120-yard hurdles: Korsboen, Bellingham, first; Nixon, Ellensburg second; Merriam, Cheney, third. Time :18 flat.

Shot Put: Jewell, Bellingham first; Robinson, Ellensburg, second; Peterson, Ellensburg, third. Distance, 38 feet 9 1-2 inches.

880-yard run: Jewell, Bellingham, first; Gallinger, Bellingham, second; Crabb, Ellensburg third. Time 2:02 3-5. New meet record, not accepted.

Discus: Purnell, Ellensburg, first; Arnett, Bellingham, second; Peterson, Ellensburg third. Distance, 116 feet 10 inches. New meet record.

High jump—Nixon, Ellensburg, first; Hughes and Rude Cheney, tied for second. Height, 5 feet 6 1-2 inches.

220-yard dash: Siegert, Cheney, first; Peterson, Ellensburg second; Hemmi, Bellingham third. Time :23 flat.

220-yard hurdles: Roth, Ellensburg, first; Merriam, Cheney, second; Burris Cheney, third; Time :27 4-5.

Javelin: Erickson, Bellingham, first; Purnell, Ellensburg second; Tiovenen, Ellensburg, third. Distance, 177 feet 10 inches. New meet record.

Two-mile run: Smith, Cheney, first

LOOSE PLAYING IN FIRST GAME

Midsummer weather failed to bring the hurlers of either Bellingham or Cheney to midsummer form in the first game of their series here last Friday, their mates in the field caught the fever and kicked the ball all over the lot, and the dual ineffectiveness resulted in a pandemonium of run-getting that finally swung to Cheney's favor in the ninth when 8 hits drove in 9 runs and clinched a 17-8 victory. Until that barrage broke up the game, Cheney had managed to hold a slim advantage, 8 to 6.

The 25 runs clatter over on 27 hits, 5 of them for extra bases, 4 walks, 2 hit batsmen and 13 errors, 9 of which were charged to the Bellingham infield. But the coast school's inner defense also turned in the fielding gems, getting the only 2 double plays of the game. McClurken, shortstop, had 13 chances, 3 of which he booted; Odell, his mate around the keystone sack, had 11. He was charged with only 1 muff.

Thorlakson, on the mound for Bellingham, was pounded hard as early as the second inning, but he lasted until 5 runs had counted in that hectic ninth. McClurken, who relieved him then, was hit for 4 more markers before he retired the side. Leifer, for Cheney, went the route. He gave eleven blows but tightened in the pinches enough to hold his slight lead. He sent ten of the Vikings down on strikes but two of them, Clarke and Thorsen, hit for the circuit off his delivery.

Odell looked good both in the field and at bat. Clarke and Thorsen shared hitting honors with him. Clift, who guards the initial sack for Cheney led his team with the stick. He clicked four safe ones, and turned in a nice running catch on a hard hit liner to his field. Curran, in right field for Cheney, saved Leifer some trouble and made the last out of the game with a hard rolling catch. He took the ball off his shoestrings at a dead run.
